

James Denning – Comics - MasterMinds

In the first half of the 2000s, I was part of a comics and animation startup called MasterMinds Unlimited. We developed ideas for a dozen different series, published several them in anthologies and had one optioned for development before we went our separate ways.

The MasterMinds comic that follows was written by myself, Lance Karutz and Aaron Sowd. It was drawn by Aaron Sowd. The weekend before going to press, I got a call that we had two pages fewer than we'd planned for. By compressing a two page fight scene into two panels (see page 8) I kept the project on time and on budget.
